UFOS IN THE LAKE OF FIRE

by Timothy Green Beckley

It's UFOlogy's dirty little secret. It's something that is better left swept under the rug. Stanton Friedman doesn't talk about it. Stephen Bassett most assuredly would keep the subject at arm's length. The late Richard Hall would have deleted you from his address book. And Steven Greer would never consider it part of his ongoing Disclosure program.

To coin ourselves a catch-all phrase that brings together all the negative aspects of the subject, I prefer to call it the DARK SIDE OF UFOLOGY!

It would appear – at least at first glance – that only those who consider themselves Christian fundamentalists have a rigorous drum to beat on behalf of the subject matter we are considering – that at least some UFOs can rightfully be tied in with Demonic phenomenon. It would seem to be almost an exclusive element of their zealous faith based belief system that contends anything remotely occult or supernatural—and that would definitely include UFOs — has a staunch ally in the devil and his minions. Christian apologist, Dave Hunt has stated, "the same people that run UFOs are the same people that run haunted houses."

Indeed, it has become more apparent even by those who for decades held dearly to a deep belief that UFOs must be interplanetary in nature, that there is a paranormal nature to this enigma that cannot easily be set aside. Several top notch researchers — such as the late Dr J. Allen Hynek's former associates Ted Phillips and Philip Imbrogno — have come to realize that we are NOT dealing solely with physical craft from outer space occupied by off-world astronauts coming to warn us that we might possibly annihilate ourselves either ecologically or in the course of our warlike nature.

More and more emphasis needs to be placed on the spiritual, occult and paranormal nature of the phenomenon seen in our skies and invading our homes and personal boundaries. It's not all "sweetness and light," kiddies. The truth is that there are a host of negative elements associated with UFO encounters. Some of the entities involved could very well be leading us down the primrose path. You can believe, and the evidence clearly is undisputable, that there are cosmic criminals in our midst who have successfully managed to possess and control the minds of utterly frightened participants who had no warning that they were to be caught up inside a nightmarish web of confusion and chaos.

There are numerous aspects of this dark side of UFOs that we examine closely in our just published book Round Trip To Hell In A Flying Saucer: UFO Parasites, Alien Soul Suckers, Invaders From Demonic Realms.

+ The connection between UFOs, demons, and possibly Satan himself.

+ The fascination for and the link between Nazism, occultism and post World War Two German-made flying saucers.

+ The ghastly exercise of blood draining and human sacrifice throughout antiquity and their relationship to animal and human mutilations and blood letting in modern times, which align closely to the appearance of UFOs in specific theaters of operation on our planet.

+ The weird claims of John Lear that aliens are coming here to kidnap humans and not return them. That people are being used for food, and how "they" are performing sadistic experimentations upon us, and are attempting to suck out our souls and place them in "containers" for their own perverted use.

+ The Islamic belief in the normally invisible elementals identified in the Koran as the Jinn and how these malevolent spirits are able to misrepresent themselves by camouflaging their true identity and traveling around at fantastic speeds.

+ Shape shifters who can turn into human looking beings, animals, orbs, fireballs or manifest themselves even as physical "hardware" to fool us into believing they are mechanical devices.

+ The casting of magical spells, occult rituals and the ability to conjure up spirits and beings often mistaken for UFOnauts but more closely aligned with the elemental kingdom.

UFO REPORTS ARE STRIKINGLY SIMILAR TO DEMONIC POSSESSION AND PSYCHIC PHENOMENON stand, at the curb) wasn't jammed with a couple of large manila envelopes from William C. Lamb.

To be honest, our "correspondence" was mostly one sided. To me, Lamb was a bit of a nutter (British for crackpot). He claimed to have images of heaven and even God's throne that astronomers had photographed through high powered telescopes that exist on the edge of the galaxy. To him the ole man in the clouds was as real as you or I and the Lord's Kingdom was a place you could actually see if you had a powerful enough telescope. Kind of crazy, right? Well, the story doesn't end there.

According to Lamb, he knew all about God and Satan firsthand because he had seen Beelzebub with his own eyes. No! It wasn't part of a near-death or out-of-body experience, but a component of a UFO landing.

Lamb had been out hunting in a snowstorm around four or five AM in February 1922, as he explained, when he heard a buzzing sound and saw this huge spherical craft hovering over a nearby field. It was so large and brilliant to his eyes that it blocked out the stars and he found himself mesmerized by its sudden appearance. He watched in awe as a partition opened on the side of the craft and a gigantic creature with wings flew to the ground and landed in the snow. The being was somewhere between seven and eight feet tall and appeared demonic in its facial features and physical form. Lamb said he hid behind a tree and watched as it tracked through the snow, its hooves – yes, I said hooves – melting down to the tundra as it went along. Eventually it came to a sturdy wire fence and managed to just walk through it, burning through the mesh and leaving it looking red hot.

At the time I had every reason to believe Lamb was totally delusional. It was obvious that he saw everything through the eyes of orthodox religion. So much so that when he was approached by this ghoulish figure he managed to get it to fly off, using the name of Jesus and commanding it to depart.

The case is known to others besides me. Apparently a letter or two from W.C. was also preserved in the Air Force's Project Blue Book files because astute researcher Jacques Vallee mentions it in his book Passport to Magonia. Vallee has long expressed his opinions that, "UFOs are real but they are not physical. They are messengers of deception," and that, ". . .the UFOs beings of today belong to the same class of manifestation as the (occult) entities that were described in centuries past."

As far back as the 1960s – perhaps earlier! — certain fractions in the U.S. government and military acknowledged the occult nature of what were still referred to in many circles as flying saucers. In 1969 the U.S. Printing Office issued a 400-page publication entitled UFOs And Related Subjects, a huge compendium of over 1000 books, literature and testimonies of UFO contactees. The document was compiled for the Air Force and the Library of Congress by Lynn Catoe who in its Introduction matter-of-factly states: "A large part of the available UFO literature is closely linked with mysticism and the metaphysical. It deals with subjects like mental telepathy, automatic writing and invisible entities as well as phenomenon like poltergeist manifestations and possession. Many of the UFO reports now being published in the popular press recount alleged incidents that are strikingly similar to demonic possession and psychic phenomenon that have long been known to theologians and parapsychologists." Others with a decisively Christian bent have expressed concern that "the aliens often encourage illicit sex, and other ungodly things." One abductee Calvin Parker told me that aliens had caused the AIDS virus and that, "I think they are demons. I feel like it's evil. It could come from another world, but I think it's kind of interdimensional in this one," Parker explained to a reporter.

Ann Druffel

Ann Druffel has been active in investigating UFOs since 1957 when she joined the National Investigations Committee on Unidentified Flying Objects. The affable author of Tujunga Canyon Contacts (co-authored by D. Scott Rogo) and How To Defend Yourself Against Alien Abduction is a no nonsense type of individual. She has paid her dues and everyone respects her opinions, even when she unhesitantly states : "The entities who pose as 'extraterrestrials' are not what they say they are. Rather, they are apparently unwholesome entities who have deceived and interacted with humans since the dawn of history. Be they mythic, 'real,' 'spiritual,' interdimensional or from a 'hidden world' which somehow exists in or alongside our own earth plane, I cannot say, since proof still eludes us. I do know for certain, however, that interfering, shape shifting, 'otherworldly' entities have been described by every major culture (and many smaller cultures) on the face of the earth down through the millennia, and that these older cultures developed means to fend them off or, at the very least, recognized them for what they were."

DOES SATAN DRIVE A FLYING SAUCER?

ARE DEMONS KIDNAPPING HUMANS AND PERFORMING SADISTIC EXPERIMENTS ON THEM?

IS THERE A RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN BLOOD SACRIFICES AND ANIMAL AS WELL AS HUMAN MUTILATIONS ATTRIBUTED TO EXTRATERRESTRIALS?

CAN ALIEN LIFE FORMS SHAPE SHIFT, TURNING INTO HUMANS, GLOWING ORBS, FIREBALLS, OR EVEN MANIFEST THEMSELVES AS PHYSICAL "HARDWARE" TO FOOL US INTO BELIEVING THEY ARE MECHANICAL DEVICES?

It's the dirty little secret of UFOlogy – something that only a few insiders dare discuss amongst themselves.

For example, Lord Hill-Norton, the late five-star Admiral and the former Head of the British Ministry of Defence, believed strongly in the existence of UFOs. But he did not see them in a positive light, professing instead in his privately-printed UFO Concern Report: "UFOs are essentially a religious matter rather than a military threat and furthermore there is certainly a degree of psychic involvement in almost every case. Quite often, however, such experiences are definitely antithetical to orthodox Christian beliefs."

Journalist and author of "The Mothman Prophecies" (made into a film starring Richard Gere) John A. Keel was adamant when he stated:

"...The UFOS do not seem to exist as tangible, manufactured objects. They do not conform to the accepted natural laws of our environment....The UFO manifestations seem to be, by and large, merely minor variations of the age-old demonological phenomenon."

Other researchers of supernatural phenomena have noted that . . .

The casting of magical spells, the performance of occult rituals and a ceremony to conjure up spirits are sometimes attempted by witnesses prior to a UFO appearing in their proximity.

tween UFOlogists are fairly common. Recently, Redfern authored a book, Final Events: And The Secret Government Group on UFOs and the Afterlife which just about ruined his near perfect reputation. The work details the history of a hidden think tank within the U.S. Government that believes rather than having alien origins, UFOs are really a tool of the Devil.

We sat down for a lengthy interview with Redfern to be found in Round Trip To Hell In A Flying Saucer. Redfern explained to me that the think tank was begun to try and exploit the mental powers of what they called "Non-Human Entities," commonly known as the Grays. "There were people in the official world," Nick says, "that wanted to see if the mind-power of the Grays could be utilized as a form of mind-weaponry by the Pentagon, and the Department of Defense; something along the lines of a next generation Remote Viewing type program." The more the Pentagon group got into the project, "the more they came to believe that the Grays were highly deceptive, and they also came to believe the Grays were actually – and quite literally – deceptive demons from Hell, who were here to deceive us about their true agenda – which was to bring people over to the dark side and prepare things for Armageddon, but to do it under the guise of a faked alien appearance," or so Redfern reveals.

"As for abductions, the think tank believes the whole alien scenario is a scam – a series of brain-induced hallucinations provoked by these entities as a means to reinforce the idea that they are aliens here to experiment on us." Furthermore, the they can seemingly, "provoke hallucinatory imagery in the mind: aliens, goblins, Bigfoot, etc. to make us believe we're seeing something physical and external."

The group came to conclude, says Redfern, "That Earth is a farm, and that we are the cattle. . .that these entities essentially are here to harvest and feed upon the energy of our soul at death because these demonic creatures are basically energy-based, and our energy feeds and fuels them." This task is further expanded upon in our book by retired CIA "jockey" and ace pilot John Leer who has long maintained such a "peculiar" theory.

For our book Round Trip To Hell In A Flying Saucer, we have gathered together our own "think tank" of prominent individuals to express their opinions and to collectively publish their own findings. Included in this roster are Brad Steiger, Adam Gorightly, Kenn Thomas, Brent Raynes as well as the posthumous John Keel, author of Trojan Horse and Mothman Prophecies.

Incorporated in this large sized work is also a little known tome published in 1955 from which we adapted the overall title of our own work. Not only did Cecil Michael claim to rub shoulders with Mr Scratch, but he says he went with him straight to hell. Proclaims the flyleaf on a very rare copy: "Here is one of the most startling stories ever written! The narrator, calmly working in his auto repair shop, suddenly finds himself playing host to a pair of visitors from outer space. From that moment his entire life is changed.

"For weeks the Spacemen practice all types of weird experiments upon their bewildered friend, who is too terrified to protest. Finally, wearying of their ingenious super-games, they decide to take the poor auto mechanic on a trip to Hell. . .And, as you descend with the narrator into a modern Inferno, you will pray, with the auto mechanic who tells the story, that his visit will be a short one."

The British publication Magonia encapsulates Cecil Michael's bizarre Round Trip To Hell In A Flying Saucer in this manner:

"The craft went off into space, eventually arriving at a bleak red planet with a lake of fire into which coffins were cast, the dead bodies inside them then coming to life and burning in agony. He was afraid that he would be trapped there permanently, but apparently he was saved by a vision of Christ that appeared in a beam of white light, and returned to Earth. The trip seemed to have taken four days, but only four hours had passed."

Without a doubt this can be said to be our oddest contribution to the overall body of UFO and paranormal literature we have published over the last five decades. It discusses a theory that is straight out of the movie The Exorcist.

To many it will be a difficult to accept concept. To others it is something that they already recognize as part of their on going faith. It is none the less a premise that needs to be explored.

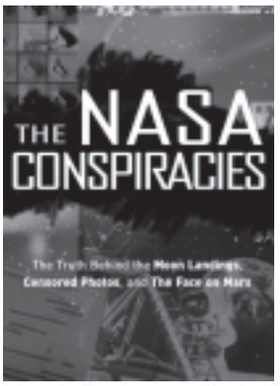
NEW NASA CONSPIRICIES

Nick Redfern Explores The Hidden Truth "Behind The Moon Landings, Censored Photos, The Face On Mars," And A Bunch More

Reviewed by Brent Raynes

Quickly glancing over the cover's subtitle my initial reaction was, "Ho hum, more rehash on the so-called NASA faked a moon landing conspiracy and the whole drawn out Mars Face saga," but instead I was delightfully pleased to be proven wrong as I came upon story after story that I was completely unaware of. For example, chapter 13, The Monsters of NASA, was for me a real eye-opening walk down the wild side of high-strangeness. Here we read how Frank Shaw, an archivist at NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston, late one night in 1986, had a frightening experience in which he observed atop a nearby building a large black man-like figure with a cape draped over its shoulders and two huge wings protruding out from each side of it's cape. The wings made a cracking noise, he said, as they slowly flapped in the strong, howling wind of that night. Initially frozen in fear, only able to stand and stare at the gargoyle-like spectacle above him, he finally managed to gain his mobility and ran straight for his car, got in and got the hell out of there without even looking back one more time.

Weeks later, the experience still gnawing at him, he broke down and reluctantly shared what had happened with a supervisor. To both his surprise and relief, he was not treated like a nut case. In fact, he learned that there was a secret file on such matters, and that file was recently opened as the bodies of two German Shepherds had been found mutilated and drained of large quantities of blood in the same area that the winged creature had been seen. NASA security people were reportedly flown in from Arizona to interrogate him about his incident and naturally he was strongly advised not to talk about the matter any further.



Even the famous SETI scientist Frank Drake was a little perplexed and bewildered when, in the mid-1960s, in his early tenure as director of Puerto Rico's Arecibo Radio Telescope, a security guard one night reported encountering a sinister appearing black cloaked figure walking a narrow trail around the perimeter of the bowl. The guard said that he believed the being was, in fact, a vampire! Though skeptical, Drake took the guard's account and agreed to read it. About 48 hours later, the body of a cow was found on a nearby farm, drained of blood. Drake recalled, "The vampire rumor had already spread through the observatory staff and now the cow incident whipped the fears of many people into a frenzy."

In addition, the author ponders whether there was any truth to the stories he found circulating in Puerto Rico that chupacabras and U.S. military personnel had a deadly series of confrontations after a UFO crashed in the El Yunque rain forest in 1984, and that two of those chupacabras were captured and taken to a secure underground lab facility under the auspices of NASA? Also did a mysterious two night siege between security personnel and small high-speed balls of blue light buzzing around NASA's John H. Glenn Research Center in Ohio end up with the retrieval of an approximately 9 foot tall Bigfoot type creature that was shot during the otherworldly skirmish?

Then there are stories like that of P.T. McGavin, a former employee of a company that contracted with NASA during the Gemini program, who in 1973 underwent a full-blown contactee experience. It began with a disembodied voice that instructed him to leave his home in Colorado and head out for Aztec, New Mexico. He even had a vision like of a triangular craft hovering over a canyon. Though he initially feared that he might be suffering signs of possible mental illness or a brain tumor, he decided to go ahead and follow the mysterious instructions he perceived and made the more than 350 mile trek. As a result, around 2 a.m. the morning after his arrival, McGavin, who had fallen asleep at this point in the back of his car, awakened to the sound of a deep and intense humming noise. Then he looked out the window and was shocked to see a large black triangle hovering low overhead, almost identical to the one he had seen in his vision the day before. He got out of the car and was soon approached by a tall human looking figure with long blond hair who wanted McGavin's help to spread the message of the space people that consisted pretty much of the standard love, light, and a better future for us scenario of past contactee lore.

There was something about this alien being that McGavin wasn't sure he trusted. He thought very deeply about what had happened for several weeks and then made the decision to contact several of his former old friends from NASA's Gemini program and tell them what had happened. A few weeks later, he received a telephone call from a gentleman who identified himself as a Mr. Callahan. He claimed that one of his friends on the Gemini program had contacted him, though later they would all deny this. At any rate, Callahan claimed he worked for NASA on "security" matters and claimed that the aliens were actually from our own planet, an ancient and deceptive race who were hell bent it seemed on removing us from the surface of this planet so that they could again resume their former role of being earth's primary inhabitants. Though he would later try and track down this man, no one, it seemed, knew anything about this "Mr. Callahan."

Needless to say, The NASA Conspiracies has all sorts of tantalizing and thought-provoking surprises and details in store for the reader. This is just a teaser to entice you to begin the process of assimilating its pages for yourself.

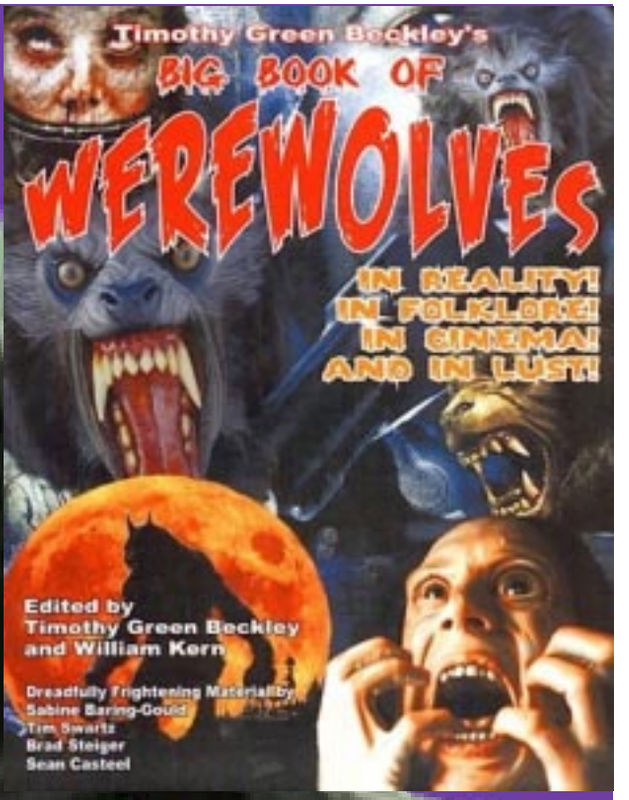
WEREWOLVES ARE NOT JUST THE WORK OF HORROR WRITERS, MASTER CINEMATOGRAPHRS OR SPECIAL EFFECTS WIZARDS. . . THEY ARE FOR REAL!



Or so says noted paranormal researcher Timothy Green Beckley, who has also generated a reputation as a B-Movie horror host using the moniker of Mr Creepo.

Calling upon noted experts in the field of cryptozoology, Beckley has compiled a virtually exhaustive history of Lycanthropy, as well as the phenomenon of shape-shifting, which has been reported in all cultures throughout history. A portion of the book written by noted author Brad Steiger is devoted to the "sexual hunger" of the Werewolf, as well as its importance in global cinema.

Among relevant disclosures, readers will learn how to stop a werewolf in its tracks...and it's NOT just with silver bullets or wolfbane.

About the Author

This is a large "coffee table" book weighing over one pound. Though it is a book meant for those interested in the reality of these hairy beasts, the book is also directed to the millions of fans of horror movies who have thrilled to the howling creatures of the full moon.

Joining Beckley in this massive undertaking are:

SEAN CASTEEL, who takes us on a contemporary werewolf hunt with assistance from NICK REDFERN and LINDA GODFREY who have confronted present day werewolves. A British born researcher, Redfern is a field cryptozoologist who knows that these shape shifters are all too REAL, as Linda Godfrey can attest, having written several books on the Beast of Brey Road (Wisconsin).

BRAD STEIGER, who notes the lustful hunger of the werewolf.

Emmy Award winner TIM SWARTZ, who has dug into his personal photo and poster collection to make this a must have book for all motion picture buffs.

And finally the remaining bulk of the book is a huge historical reference by eclectic Scholar, SABINE BARING-GOULD, whose research is in a historical vein, dating the "legend" back centuries to its true origins.

After more than half a century of enforced secrecy, "THE GERMAN SAUCER STORY" has at last been put together by those who know the incredible but true saga of how hundreds of Nazi scientists and engineers were welcomed to America with open arms immediately after WWII.

They bought with them fantastic super weapons and aerial devices that have flown silently across the heavens under the attentive eyes of the military and politically elite who do not want the American people to know the TRUTH — that we have consorted with the most notorious butchers of the SS as well as Hitler's personal henchmen, to bring about a "UFO insurrection" that you can now read about for the first time. . .

( ) UFOS – NAZI SECRET WEAPONS by Mattern Friedrich has been banned in 22 countries, and the author says he has been a political prisoner for the last 20 years due to the publication of this highly controversial volume.

This is a new expanded edition of a book that has caused great debate since it was originally published in the 1970s as advertised in hundreds of national magazines at great expense by whom and for what reason?

Here are reports of UFO crews speaking German and behaving like soldiers of the Third Reich. And clear photos of UFOs with swastika shape imprints on the side of the saucers (photos in book prove it!). Dozens of provocative designs and the inside story of those who stood firm against all obstacles to keep this hush hush.
